the street is widened to care for the increased through traffic, motorists will soon take another route.

TWO Boy Scouts will receive Eagle badges at a rally to be held at American Legion hall Saturday evening, April 12. The lads who have passed the difficult tests which qualify them as Eagle Scouts are George Wilkinson of Lomita and George Watson of Torrance. The boys are to be commended on their ability to pass the tests. Other Scouts should learn from the success of these two boys that hard work and study have their own rewards. Wilkinson and Watson have learned in their Scouting that rewards are worthless unless those who win them continue the good work. Keeping up the good work means helping other Scouts improve themselves. And those who know young Wilkinson and young Watson know these two lads will do that.

DAY & NIGHT GARAGE ADDS NEW MEMBER

C. M. Calder, formerly of Reno, Nev., has purchased an interest in the Day and Night Garage of Torrance and will be assistant to Jack Hansen in managing the firm's business. Mr. Calder knows the auto game thoroughly, having had experience in Reno and other cities. In view of the fact that the garage management has recently signed up a new contract to sell the Chevrolet cars in this territory, and has just received one of the new model four-passenger coupes, which is going to keep all agencies of the Chevrolet company delivering cars, Mr. Calder comes at the right time to relieve manager Jack Hansen of some of the duties that have been making him work overtime lately. The new coupe is a beauty, and no doubt the Torrance agency will make record sales on this model.

Dr. George P. Shidler, associate of Dr. J. S. Lancaster, was admitted to membership in the Torrance Chamber of Commerce by the board of directors Tuesday.

SEVEN NEW WELLS BROUGHT IN, INCREASING YIELD OF FIELD

Seven new wells went on production in the field since Monday, Chancellor-Canfield keeping up its recent average of a well a day by bringing in three new producers.

The best well of the week was the C. C. M. O's Torrance No. 41, offsetting the Petroleum Securities Marble 12 on the old Redondo road (west). This new producer is making a little better than 1000 barrels. It was completed at 3750 feet.

The Santa Fe brought in two more producers on the Kettler ranch. Both are on the old Redondo road, east of Arlington street, and are small producers. No. 8, the more easterly of the two, is making 500 barrels, while No. 4 is flowing at a 100-barrel rate. Both were completed at 3780 feet.

Standard's Interstate No. 3, drilled to 3882 feet, rates as a 1000-barrel producer. A 13-hour gauge showed a yield of 405 barrels and the well has not yet cleaned itself out. The gravity was 16.5, but is expected to be better when the cut of mud and emulsion is decreased.

Standard's Dominguez No. 3 is flowing by heads, making heavy oil with a large percentage of mud, sand and emulsion. The well is making no water, however, and is expected to produce 600 or 700 barrels a day when it cleans out. Standard completed the well at 3891 feet.

Keefe and Riden brought in Carle No. 2 at Pine and Pennsylvania for about 400-barrel production.

Standard completed Marble Fee No. 5 at 3785 feet for 600-barrel production. The oil tests 28 degrees gravity and is cutting 3 per cent mud and sand. Cleaned out, the well will make close to 800 barrels, it is thought. Tubing pressure is 240 pounds.

ASK OR DOWNTOWN STATION

That the Western Union Telegraph and Cable company should locate its Torrance office in the business district, as has been repeatedly promised by the company's representatives, is the view of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce directors. The directors instructed Secretary Gadeky Tuesday to remind the company of this promise.

WIRES IN FAVOR OF IMMIGRATION RESTRICTION

Appreciative of the fact that the immigration flood gates will be opened wide to undesirable foreigners unless congress immediately passes a new immigration restriction law, directors of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce, at the behest of Alfred Gourdier and Dr. S. J. Lancaster, Tuesday instructed the secretary to telegraph Congressman Fredericks and Senators Johnson and Shortridge, urging these representatives to lend their efforts to the passage of a new and stringent restriction bill.
